

Passage:

Jack has big dreams for his future. In a few years, he will be living in another country, pursuing his goal of working in international business. By that time, he will have completed his university studies, earning a degree in business management. Jack is excited about the opportunities that lie ahead, knowing that he will have been working for a multinational company for over two years by the time he reaches his goal. This experience will give him the skills and connections he needs to advance his career.

Jack believes that living abroad will not only help him grow professionally but also personally. He is looking forward to immersing himself in a new culture and making new friends. To prepare for this change, he has been studying the language of the country he plans to move to. He hopes that by the time he arrives, he will have mastered enough of the language to communicate effectively with the locals.

Jack's journey is not just about work; it's also about personal growth and exploration. He believes that the experiences he gains will shape his future and provide him with valuable lessons that go beyond the classroom. Every day, he is one step closer to achieving his dreams.
