My Gadgets

Descriptions and Quantifiers

Read the text and answer the questions.

I have a few gadgets that I use every day. My favorite gadget is my new smartphone. It is black, has a big screen, and is very fast. I use it to send messages, make phone calls, take pictures, and play games. I take it with me everywhere I go. My phone has a lot of storage, so I can download many apps. Right now, I have about 30 apps on my phone!

I also have a tablet, but I don't use it as much as my phone. The tablet is white and a bit heavier than the phone. It has a large screen, which is great for watching videos or reading e-books. I don't have many books on it, just a few novels that I like to read when I'm traveling. However, my tablet is perfect for video calls because the camera is very good.

Finally, I have a laptop. I use it mostly for schoolwork. It's not as fast as my phone or tablet, but it's very useful for writing essays and doing research. I spend a lot of time on my laptop when I have assignments to complete. It's an older model, so I don't have much space for new programs, but it works well for school.

Questions:

1. What color is the smartphone and how is it described?

2. How many apps does the person have on their phone?

3. Why is the tablet good for watching videos?

4. What does the person use the laptop for?

5. Find examples of quantifiers in the text and underline them.

Questions and Answers:

1. What color is the smartphone and how is it described?
   - The smartphone is black, has a big screen, and is very fast.
2. How many apps does the person have on their phone?

   - The person has about 30 apps on their phone.

3. Why is the tablet good for watching videos?

   - The tablet has a large screen, which is great for watching videos.

4. What does the person use the laptop for?

   - The person uses the laptop mostly for schoolwork, like writing essays and doing research.

5. Find examples of quantifiers in the text and underline them.

   - A few, many, a lot of, some, much, just a few.